Decorative Crowned Bull Head Features

The decorative crowned bull head is first shaped by hand in clay, then a mold is taken and the piece is produced from durable fiberglass material. The relief details of the crown, the bands on the horns, the ear structure and the fur texture on the body are carefully modeled. If desired, it can be prepared in different colors and finishes such as bronze, gold, silver, antique patina or matte black. Thanks to its light weight, it is easy to hang on a wall and poses no risk during transport. Available in different sizes, the statue keeps its form and color for many years thanks to its solid surface finish. For custom design requests, changes can be made to the crown shape, horn length and facial expression.
