Dog Bust

The dog bust has been designed by meticulously examining the anatomical structure of the greyhound breed. The long and pointed nose structure, drooping ear details, slender neck muscles and expressive eye sockets have been realistically modeled. The red collar detail around the neck adds vitality and character to the bust; it is one of the most distinctive elements that sets the work apart from ordinary animal sculptures. The nobility and serenity in the facial expression reflects the thousands of years of deep-rooted history and aristocracy of the greyhound breed. Every detail has been shaped by the hands of a master, giving the work a unique identity.

Material and Production Quality

The dog bust is produced from high-durability fiberglass or polyester material. These materials are both lightweight and extremely durable, fully suitable for both indoor and outdoor use. Thanks to its resistance to moisture, UV rays and temperature changes, the bust remains intact and unfaded for many years. During the production process, each piece is individually removed from the mold and then retouched by skilled hands; surface imperfections are eliminated to achieve a perfect form. The base is produced from black granite material that offers a solid and elegant appearance, balancing the center of gravity of the bust and giving the sculpture a monumental stance.

Surface Coating and Color Options

The surface coating of the dog bust is applied using the patina technique to achieve a realistic and artistic appearance. Bronze patina coating is used in standard production; this coating gives the bust an antique and precious metal appearance. In addition, alternative color options such as silver patina, copper patina and matte black are also available upon request. The red collar detail is carefully crafted with acrylic paint and reinforced with a protective varnish layer to keep the color vibrant. Since the surface coating of each bust is applied by hand, no two works are exactly the same; this transforms each bust into an original work of art with collector value.

Size and Base Options

The dog bust can be produced in various sizes according to different space needs and purposes of use. Small and medium size options are available for desktop use; these sizes are ideal for office desks, bookshelves and display cabinets. When a larger and more impressive effect is desired, large size options to be mounted on floor bases can also be produced. The granite base is offered in hexagonal form as standard, although square, round or custom form requests can also be accommodated. A personalization service is also available for those who wish to add a name, date or special message engraving to the base.

Areas of Use

The dog bust has an extremely wide range of uses. When placed in a living room, study or entrance hall in home decoration, it adds character and warmth to the space. It stands out as both a decorative and corporate identity-strengthening element for veterinary clinics, pet shops and dog training centers. It offers a meaningful and unforgettable gift option for dog lovers on birthdays, anniversaries or special occasions. In addition, the bust, which is also suitable for garden and terrace use, adds an elegant touch to outdoor decoration. It is also a prestigious object of significance for dog racing events, greyhound clubs and hunting sports associations.
