Flag Bearing Soldier Sculpture

The flag-bearing soldier sculpture carries the honor and spirit of independence of the Turkish soldier who was ready to give his life for his homeland. Standing upright with the flag in hand, this figure is a symbol of the epic struggle stretching from Gallipoli to the War of Independence. Crafted with a soldier's uniform, turban, and resolute stance, the sculpture keeps alive the memory of the brave men who rushed from every corner of Anatolia during the heaviest days of history. The crescent and star flag on a black background adds both visual power and deep meaning to this piece.

Sculpture Features

Produced from high quality fiberglass, this piece offers an authentic and realistic appearance with bronze patina coating. The folds of the soldier's uniform, boot details, and facial expression are meticulously crafted. The flag pole and all components are mounted to form a solid whole. The sculpture can be placed on a granite or marble base and is available for custom production in different sizes. Its outdoor-resistant structure ensures trouble-free use in open areas for many years.

Areas of Use

A powerful choice for municipal squares, military facilities, martyr memorials, public institutions, and school grounds. It creates a meaningful symbol in spaces that highlight national values. Carrying themes of patriotism, sacrifice, and heroism, this piece inspires younger generations and keeps collective memory alive. It is also an impressive selection for martyrdom sites, museums, and cultural heritage projects.
