Stork Statue

The standing stork statue is an elegant sculpture that brings together grace, patience and serenity, giving its surroundings a calm yet striking character. With its long neck, slender legs and refined body, this garden statue creates a strong focal point in gardens, poolsides and landscape areas that is noticed at first glance. From the layered feathers and the beak line to the fine details of the toes and the natural curve of the neck, this piece, which resembles the Yaren stork statue, captures the realistic and majestic stance of the bird.

Stork Statue Features

The stork statue is first shaped as a clay model, then a mold is taken and it is produced from durable fiberglass. The wing feathers, neck lines, beak structure and foot details are modeled one by one. Standing about 1 meter tall, the piece gains realistic texture and depth thanks to its antique bronze look patina finish, and it can also be prepared in different colors and patina options on request. Its fiberglass body makes it lightweight, sturdy and easy to move. It can be displayed outdoors for many years against rain, sun and temperature changes without losing its form or color. Standing out with an elegant pose similar to the Yaren statue, this model can also be produced in different sizes. For custom orders, the pose, size and color can be changed. Stork statue prices vary depending on size, color and production details. Please contact us for current pricing.
